FOREWORD

". . . the true success is to labor."

— R.L.S.

The Class of 1963 is the class of the Cuban crisis. Perhaps by the time we are in print, some other momentous event will have punctuated our final year at the Academy. As in times past, we seem to have emerged unfused and unfissioned. The truth of the matter is that we are ultimately much more likely to face the realities of a world in which we must raise children, pay taxes, and bring home the pre-sliced bacon, than we are to leave the stage in an ungraceful bang.

In the course of the various international excitements we've learned one thing. Nearly everyone has to learn it fully for himself, but we hopefully pass it on to the classes of 1964, 1965, 1966, and to anyone else who will listen. It's a thing called doing the day's work. No matter what goes on close by or far away, no matter how dramatic or exciting it is, there is no real excuse for not tackling tonight's homework. This evening's stint of Caesar transmutes itself into tomorrow's corporation report, and meeting the afternoon's athletic commitment well is sure training for later executive decisions.

We of the Class of 1963 would be pleased if this could be our chief legacy to the Norfolk Academy — a transference of this knowledge, that there is no ducking of the immediate responsibility. The only answer to life is to do the day's work well, until all the days run out.

The Class of 1963

CLASSES

Kenny, Best of luck in soccer at! Please stay off all atomic subs.

Jimmy Arline

JAMES STUART ARLINE

Epsilon Club (1); Varsity Soccer (2); Varsity Track (2).

At the beginning of Jim's "new boy" year, the class was afraid that we had one of the shy types; but we have since learned that he uses his Southern drawl only when he has something significant to say.

Jim has set himself apart from most of his classmates by keeping his mind open and working instead of his mouth; furthermore, his inquisitiveness and half-hidden intellectualism, as well as his controlled but potent sarcasm, have won him respect in a disrespectful environment.

Jim seems to have most of the requirements for a career as a doctor already. He needs only more education, which he plans to get at Duke University.

Best of luck in the Naval academy. George Bennett

GEORGE OSBORNE BENNETT, JR.

Epsilon Club (2); Literary Magazine (1); Varsity Football (1); Varsity Basketball (2); Varsity Baseball (2).

No one in our class has a better knack for appearing asleep in class than does George Bennett. However, his bewildered questions, such as, "What did you say that question was again, sir?" are not an accurate illustration of his grades, for George consistently has maintained himself as a member of senior study hall, and has been a conscientious worker in adjusting to his rigid schedule of five full subjects.

As if George were not busy enough perfecting his French pronunciation, he is also an outstanding athlete, and has been an active participant on the football, basketball, and baseball teams. George's academic and athletic contributions to the school illustrate his All-American boy appeal. George has hopes of attending Cornell University next year and of practicing medicine in his later life.

Best from the Yetis club

Alex Bevernick

ALEXANDER HEYWOOD BEVERNICK

Honors (2); Honor Court (1); Student Council (2), Vice President (1); Monogram Club (2); Epsilon Club (1); Belfry (1); Varsity Football (2), Varsity Basketball (2); Varsity Track (4).

Alex came to us four years ago from the wilderness of Chile with an already fluent understanding of Spanish, and during that time he has risen to the office of Vice President of the Student Council and has gained the respect of students and teachers alike through his warm intellectualism.

Alex' biggest hit, however, was made at the 1962 Monogram Club Beach Party, where he succeeded in entertaining all those who attended.

Alex hopes to further his education at an Ivy League College, and, armed with his excellent understanding of languages, he hopes eventually to enter the foreign service.

Kenny; I hope I can think of something nice to say, for a change... well, it's been interesting, anyway

WAYNE EDWARD BOWMAN

Honors (1); Orange and White (3), Art Editor (1); Varsity Football (2); Varsity Soccer (2); Varsity Track (2).

Wayne Bowman is an English Department ideal, for he is one of the few seniors who actually puts to use any of the vocabulary which has been taught to our class. The fact that Wayne not only uses his colossal vocabulary in his profound and error-free themes, but also in his everyday speech, illustrates the non-conformity of which he is so proud. This excellence in English is no accident, for Wayne has made linguistics his hobby, and has excelled in Spanish and German.

School spirit is another of Wayne's attributes, for no matter what the activity, Wayne seems to be a participant. He is the only boy in the school who has played tennis, football, wrestling, track, and soccer. Wayne is also the person to attend Boys' State as a representative of the Academy. Armed with his versatality and his outspoken intellectualism, Wayne hopes to attend a liberal arts college where he plans to major in linguistics.

best of luck at the Naval Academy, or wherever.

Wayne

JAMES FREIOT BRADY

Varsity Football (1); Varsity Soccer (1); Varsity Track (1).

(Trumpets blare! Cymbals crash!) Enter James Freiot Brady, famed world traveler. Jim, a new senior this year, is the best-traveled member of our class, as at one time during his life, he has lived in both Morocco and Newfoundland, not to mention Norfolk.

Jim is a conscientious addition, but he is rather quiet in class. This quietness in class is somewhat carried over into Jim's out-of-class character, for as well as being courteous and poised, Jim is fairly shy. It is doubtful that Jim's neighbors feel that he is quiet, for his major hobby is collecting and listening to folk music, a trait seldom associated with the strong, silent type.

Another of Jim's interests is football, as he is an ardent player on our Varsity squad. Armed, then, with his athletic proficiency, his academic conscientiousness, his folk records, and his manly good looks, it is quite certain that Jim is well prepared for college life.

Ken, Sure an' it's been nice To' Know ye This yeer. I'll always remember ma' contact wi'T Mac-Swap U.

Chip Castle

J. F. Brady

HAL CUSHMAN CASTLE, JR.

Monogram Club (2); Epsilon Club (2); Varsity Football (2); Varsity Soccer (2); Varsity Baseball (2).

Chip Castle is a Navy Junior. Of course, he is not the only one in the class, but he has the unique characteristic of culling the ambition, sincerity, and insouciance from the Navy life, at the same time avoiding any aloofness or complacency. Chip has done well in the basic aspects of school (grades, athletics, activities), and has utilized his out-of-school time profitably too, having gone to Naval Reserve Training over the summer.

Chip's talents extend beyond Naval Reserve Training; he is an unusually gifted mathematician, and a very proficient soccer player. Chip has his hopes set on an appointment to the United States Naval Academy, from which he wants to put his talents to use as a Naval Officer.

Best of luck, Ken, in whatever you may do. Joel Cohen

JOEL LAWRENCE COHEN

Monogram Club (2); Epsilon Club (2); Orange and White (3), Organization Editor (1); Orange and White, Business Staff (3); Varsity Basketball (2); Varsity Baseball (3).

"Well, they blew it — I told Al not to use Cepeda today!" These are the words, as spoken by Joel Cohen on October 16, 1962, the day the Yankees took the pennant. Joel, an ardent Giant fan and the bigmouth of the Varsity baseball team, has been at the Academy for eleven years, and during these years, he has successfully displayed his qualities as a leader and as a conscientious worker.

Joel's leadership extends beyond school connections, for he is acknowledged as the leading figure, as far as clothes go, at the Academy; and while Joel does not aspire to be a clothes-horse, a new style goes unaccepted until Joel initiates it.

Joel's propaganda extends beyond the Giants and Fishback&Lea, for he is also a member of the Booster Club, and does his best to enchance the spectators' school spirit at Varsity contests. Joel attended Vanderbilt University over the summer, and his experiences there greatly prepared him for his college life next year.

Good luck always, Bill Gill

WILLIAM COUPAR GILL

Epsilon Club (1); Orange and White (2); Spring Play (2); Varsity Football (2); Varsity Soccer (2).

One of our foremost students from Portsmouth, Bill Gill, has taken an active part in both the academic and the athletic activities of the school during the three years that he has been here. On the athletic field, Bill can be seen grinding it out with the football team or dribbling a soccer ball along with the soccer team. Sailing is, however, the activity which Bill prefers, and, even in the chilly month of October, he can be seen braving the cold water and cold air to go sailing in the Elizabeth River. Bill has said that he has visions of becoming a harbor pilot in his later life, after he has attended a college in Virginia.

Good luck, Ken -
Take it easy on the soccer boys at Villanova
It's been great having our group just paved, for I venture to say my average would be quite a bit lower without it. Best of luck in the future, to a great guy. Bill

WILLIAM JAMES GRANT, JR.

Honor Court (2); Student Council (2), President (1); Epsilon Club (2); Orange and White (3), Executive Editor (1); French Newspaper (1); Varsity Basketball (2); Varsity Baseball (3).

When we return to the Academy for the class reunion, the only one of us who may be remembered is Bill Grant, for Bill is already becoming famous and the legend grows. You see, Bill is the stabilizing factor in a class which has veered close to many various extremes. His nearly unanimous election to the class presidency was an effective testimony of our need for a leader like Bill.

Bill uses his leadership abilities well, and does much to generate school spirit among other members of our class. Bill's active part on this year's Orange and White, as well as in the Student Council, has enhanced both the Annual and the school.

Bill possesses the intellect, personality, and drive necessary to be a leader, all qualities that he will take with him to Washington and Lee University.

Ken best of luck in your future endeavors. I do hope I'll be as successful as I plan for you to be.
Buzzy

ROBERT GERST HOFFEIMER, JR.

Varsity Epsilon Club (2); Belfry Newssheet (2); French Newspaper Football (2); Varsity Soccer (2).

"Sir, do you think that the increase in the Latin American birth rate will have any effect on the Sino-Russian split?" For most people a question like this one would at least be reserved for history class; however, it is typical of a question that Buzzy might ask in physics or math class. To say that Buzzy's greatest claim to fame is his tendency to ask rather unusual questions is a gross understatement, for many is the teacher who still begins to cry when Buzzy raises his hand.

Nevertheless, this inquisitive mind will some day be the cause of a very famous Academy alumnus, for Buzzy's natural ability in math is almost unsurpassed. Although, he is not yet sure exactly which field dealing with mathematics he wishes to pursue, Buzzy has decided to to concentrate on math in college.

Dick Johnston

RICHARD WISE JOHNSTON

High Honors (3); Epsilon Club (2), secretary (1); Belfry Newssheet (2); French Newspaper (1); Varsity Soccer (3).

Musically, Dick's tastes are as long-haired as they come; however, his somewhat bizarre tastes in some areas do not keep Dick from being one of the most-admired boys at the Academy. Dick is an active Conservative, and among his pet peeves is the state of Pennsylvania, with its comprehensive sales tax and its cold, winter winds, which truly symbolize it as a part of the "Yankee-Land" which Dick so fiercely dislikes.

This "Yankee-Land" with its many liberal ideas has been the subject of Dick's denunciation during numerous Senior study hall debates, and in his eloquent letters to the editor.

Conservatism is not Dick's only trademark, for he is also known for his quick wit and his consistency in maintaining high honors. Dick does not have any definite plans for his future; however, he hopes to further his education at a southern liberal arts college.

To Ken,
a truly "good fellow,"
may you have many successes throughout what I hope will be a full life. Sincerely,
Clark

CONLEY CLARK LASTER, III

High Honors (1); Honors (2); Epsilon Club (1); Orange and White (2), Class Editor (1); French Newspaper (1); Varsity Soccer, Mng. (2).

The joviality of this member of our class has often lent itself to French class, where his pronunciation has resulted in both laughs from his classmates and gray hairs in the head of Mr. Tyler. Clark's schoolwork, on the other hand, has merited him a position as one of the top students of our class, and his senior year is the first year since his entrance in the eighth grade that he has not taken five subjects.

Clark, one of the best mathematicians in the school, is also a debater of the first degree, and it is often that he can be heard throughout the basement when he is expressing his liberal-conservative ideas to the other members of senior study hall. Clark's college plans are rather varied, as are his plans for later life; however, we are sure that his engaging and candid personality will benefit him in whatever field he pursues.

Good things for you always.
Johnny Levin

GERSHON JOHN LEVIN

Monogram Club (3); Orange and White (3); Belfry Newssheet (3), editor (1); French Newspaper (1); Spring Play (2); Varsity Soccer., mng. (3).

When Johnny asked his lunchtable please not to take his lunch away, he surprised no one, for the class is used to the image he has created for himself: that of a shy, meek, quiet retiring guy. It's a funny thing though that John's friends were never fooled for a minute, and played along with his sham personality, only to humor him. What Johnny pretends is effervescence is only genuine enthusiasm, and his "naivete" is nothing more than an exaggeration of a sincere innocence.

We hate to destroy John's image, but he deserves it; after all, he has stepped out of character so often. For instance, he betrayed himself by his untiring efforts for the Belfry and the soccer team, and he has ruined his pose completely by his interest in architecture, literature, arts, and crafts.

John will go to a Southern liberal arts school, where he will fool no one.

To Kenny — Smith is a fairly common name but I know you'll be outstanding — just don't be score too many goals
Dave

DAVID MORRIS LEVY

Epsilon Club (2), Vice President (1); Belfry Newssheet (2); Varsity Football, mng. (2); Varsity Soccer (2).

Previews of Nobel Prize winners in science for 200 A.D. should surely include the name of the Class of 63's most distinguished scientist-mathematician, David Levy. David, now vice-president of the Epsilon Club, began his long climb to success as one of the featured speakers in the Kepchar Biology-Chemistry Lecture Series. David's chemistry project on "the detection of Galactosemia" won him first place honors as the best project in the Science Fair, as well as a fifty-dollar grant from the Norfolk County A.M.A. to do research on galactosemia at Norfolk General Hospital last summer. Commencement, 1962, saw him the recipient of the University of Virginia Alumni Association Award for achievement in math and science.

In addition to David's distinction in science, David is the sports editor of the "Belfry," and has actively participated every winter on the soccer team, daring the cold wind, and amusing the team with his fantastic blue helmet.

David hopes to go to college at Harvard or Williams. We hope that whatever college he does attend will recognize the immense ability under his remarkably modest exterior.

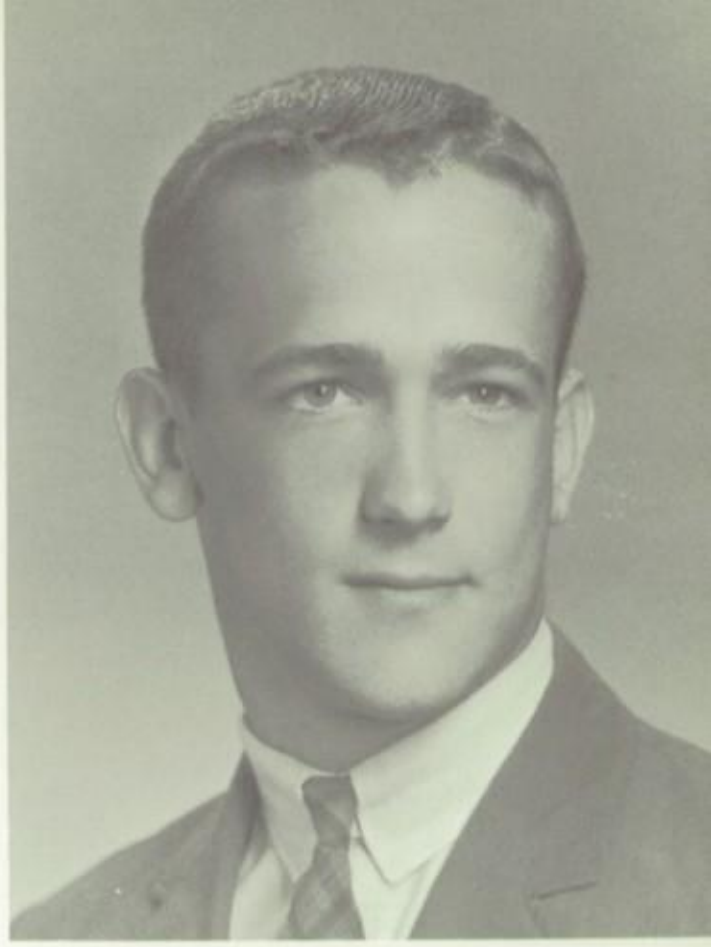
Richard Matthews

RICHARD EUGENE MATTHEWS

Monogram Club (2); Varsity Football (3); Varsity Wrestling (2); Varsity Track (3).

The fact that Doc Kepchar had to go to traffic court one day in the fall of 1960 laid the basis for what the Academy considers its most classic squelch. Called "The Biology Test Blunder" by many members of our class, this droll jest was primarily performed by Richard Matthews, whose ever-pleasant and carefree attitude has made him one of the most popular members of the class of '63. During the summer, Richard's talent for playing practical jokes was again displayed as he nearly caused Mr. Babcock to have a heart-attack when he sprang a fur-lined object out of an animal cage at him.

A fun-loving nature is decidedly Richard's foremost claim to fame; however, he has also made quite a name for himself on the football field — a name which has earned him two Varsity letters, and in the 1962 Science Fair, in which he won the Physics Prize.



RICHARD MORGAN MUSICK

Honor Court (1); Student Council (1), Treasurer (1); Monogram Club (5), President (1); Key Club (2); Orange and White (1); Varsity Football (2); Varsity Wrestling (5), Captain (2); Varsity Track (3).

"Mooooose, Mooooose, Mooooose," is often the cry heard in the Academy gymnasium when Dick, in all his 123-pound glory, steps on the wrestling mat. In addition to Dick's fine wrestling skills, which have rewarded him with a twenty-five match winning streak in regular season competition, Dick plays an important part in everything that goes on around school. Aside from wrestling, football, and track, Dick, a member of senior study hall, has generated much school enthusiasm as President of the Monogram Club, and has played an active part in almost every club here at the Academy. Dick wants to go to Washington and Lee University, and armed with his almost unmatched athletic ability and his winning personality, we are sure that he will be happy wherever he goes and in whatever he does.

EARL STEPHEN NEMO

Orange and White (2); Orange and White Business Staff (2); French Newspaper (1); Varsity Golf (1).

Sandy Nemo has contributed to his class a spirit of pleasantness and fun, for often one sees the "Old Red Head" in the center of a group smiling and laughing at the antics of his fellow classmates and contributing his own good humor. Sandy's contributions to the school include, besides his joviality, his terrific ability in golf, for Sandy has been on the golf team and has participated in many local summer tournaments.

Sandy plans to attend the University of North Carolina or Vanderbilt next year, and we know that he will be just as well received at college as he has been at the Academy. We know also that he will be remembered always for what he is — a good friend.

Sandy Nemo

MICHAEL GARY NOLD

Orange and White (2); Varsity Soccer (2); Varsity Track (2).

Mike is a man of hobbies; however, discounting girls, we can say that his greatest hobby is sailing. Mike's proficiency at sailing can be seen as he sails on even the roughest days along the Lafayetter River. Mike's love of warm weather and the steaming sun also make him an ardent fan of the summer, and, in this respect, he can surely be called a conformist in a class where non-conformity reigns supreme.

Mike's shirt-tie combinations, however, illustrate the fact that his ideas do not always correspond to those of his classmates, for there are many days when his "dirty" red hair sharply clashes with his purple-green-white-blue-orange-vermilion combinations.

Mike's joviality and pleasantness have been real assets to our class, and although he is still undetermined as to his future, we know that his lively personality will be an asset in whatever he does.

Mike

PAUL RIPPEY

Honors (1); Honor Court (1); Student Council (2); Monogram Club (2); Literary Magazine (1); French Newspaper (1); Varsity Football (1); Varsity Soccer (3); Varsity Track (4).

Paul Rippey would probably like to be remembered for an outgoing friendliness, a sense of humor, ambition, and ability. And, of course, no one will forget these characteristics. But no character sketch could neglect to mention certain other thing about Paul which, too, will be remembered. For instance, Paul has a tendency to procrastination rare to people of his ability; and, while he certainly was outgoing in his last two years here, there was a time when Paul was nothing but, well, shy. His ability, though always present and usually obvious, at times was well disguised. Certain of his themes were a little more than thought-provoking; they were unfathomable. Paul's most salient trademark, however, will be remembered as his cynicism, which, at certain periods, tends to act as a plague within our class. Paul's personality will enhance the University of Virginia next year, when he will probably put all of his potential natural abilities to use.

Best of luck
Marc Salzberg

MARC EDMUND SALZBERG

High Honors (3); Monogram Club (2); Epsilon Club (2); Treasurer (1); Orange and White (3); Photography Editor (1); French Newspaper (1); Varsity Football Mgr. (2); Varsity Soccer (2).

When Marc entered the Academy in the eighth grade, it was apparent to both the students and the teachers that he was a boy of immense ambition and conscientiousness. Through the years, Marc has worked as hard as any boy in our class in order to maintain this image, and unlike many students, Marc's conscientiousness has been rewarded with consistent high honors.

Marc's love of peanuts is another of his outstanding characteristics, and many is the field that he has roamed through in order to attain his favorite treat. Marc's interest in fields extends beyond those of peanuts, for, on rare occasions, he can be seen lining the football field, or tromping over the soccer field.

Although, at times, Marc claims that he is unfairly persecuted, he has given freely of both his time and his talent to the organization of the Orange and White, and armed with his outgoing nature and his academic superiority, Marc will do well at any of the Ivy League colleges which he wishes to attend.

Best of luck always, Ken.
Danny Schechner

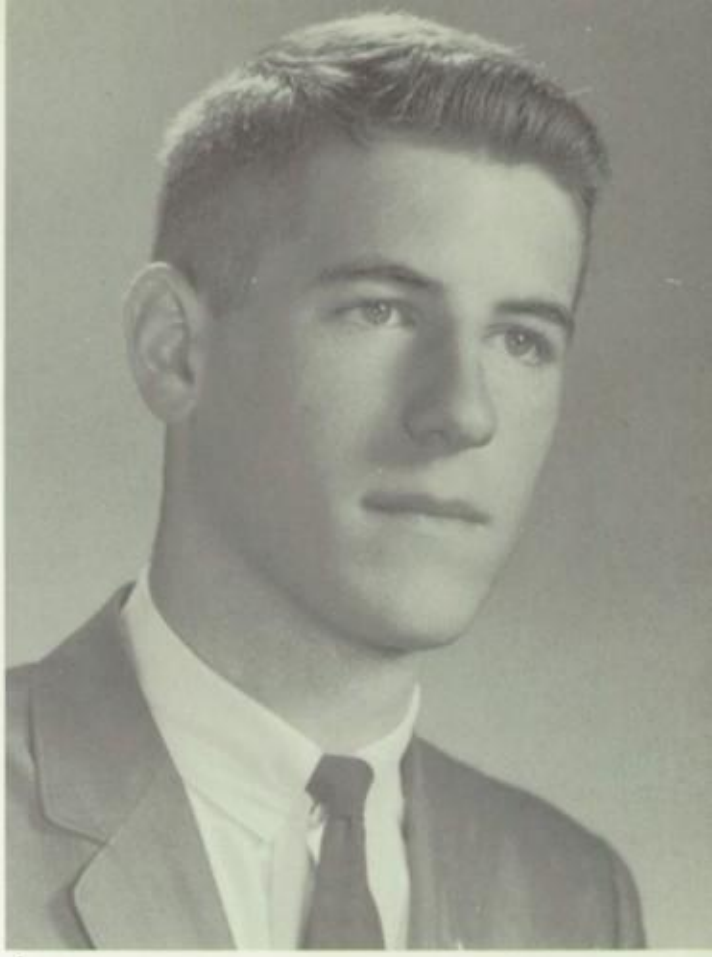
DANIEL HERBERT SCHECHNER

High Honors (3); Epsilon Club (2), President (1); Varsity Soccer, Mgr. (2).

Trying to maintain the fine record of one's brother is no easy job; however, Danny has managed to do just that, winding up at the top of the class in his junior year (1962), while his brother, Steve, was the valedictorian for the Class of 1962. This year, Danny has continued to compile the fine record which he started in the Second Form. During this period, Danny has seldom, if ever, had less than a High Honors average.

Although Danny intends to follow a Liberal Arts course in college, his ability extends to science also. Last year, he was one of the speakers in the Chemistry Series, and this year he is president of the Epsilon Club.

Danny's versatility is truly amazing. His English themes are just as well-written and thoughtfully conceived as his lab reports. He also excels in French, for which he has won several awards. Yet he is rather paradoxical, for while he is seldom caught studying, he is always prepared.

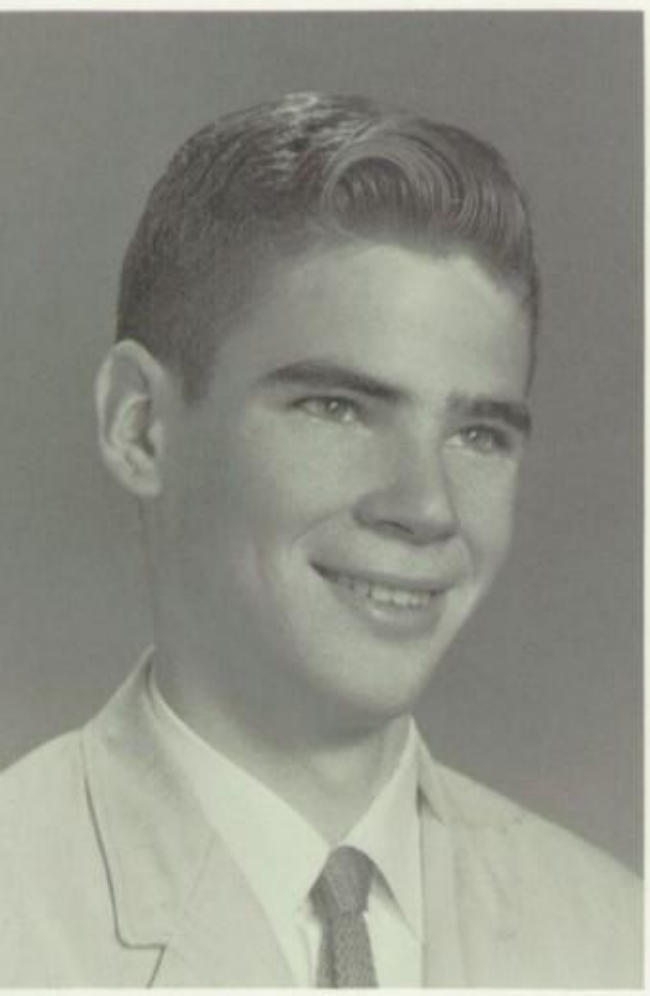


WILLIAM PORTER SELLERS, IV

Honor Court (1); Student Council (2); Monogram Club (2); Epsilon Club (1); Key Club (3), President (1); Varsity Football (2); Varsity Soccer (3); Varsity Track (3).

Bill Sellers is the only member of the Class of '63 who has been at the Academy for twelve years. During this time, he has been one of the most active members of the class, and has, on several occasions, been a member of the Student Council and the Honor Court. Bill, however, is one of those boys, of whom there are many, whose ardent appreciation of and interest in good literature is only surpassed by their dislike of and lack of proficiency in mathematics.

Bill's perseverance, however, has always kept him on top of the heap and his conscientiousness and concern for the feelings of others are traits which have merited his election as president of the Key Club. In this capacity, Bill can be called a true philanthropist, as in September of 1962, he unselfishly gave several hundred dollars worth of potential Key Club "coke-profits" to other student organizations. This philanthrophy, as well as his stick-to-it-ness, is certain to be a very valuable asset to him when he attends Duke University next year.



Good Luck Ken!
Hope you do
as well in everything
as you have in Soccer.
Bill Sellers

KENNETH ALEXANDER SMITH

Honors (1); Monogram Club (4); Epsilon Club (2); Orange and White (3); Varsity Football (1); Varsity Soccer (4); Varsity Track (2).

The old adage that England has always produced enthusiastic and proficient soccer players holds true at the Academy; for Ken Smith, a resident of Great Britain during a three-year tour of duty, is one of the best players ever to kick a soccer ball into the Academy goal. His excellence at the game is only surpassed by his enthusiasm for it, for many is the fall or spring afternoon that a rather incongruously clad soccer player can be seen dribbling a soccer ball through the football and baseball players, and this bizarre creature is, of course, Ken Smith.

As well as being a proficient soccer player, Ken is also a loquacious talker, and both on and off the field, Ken's voice can be heard above all others, as he argues about a soccer or one of Mr. Jones' Physics problems. Ken is looking forward to a career in the Navy, and it is certain that the Class of '63 will feel safer several years hence, knowing that Ken is guarding our country.

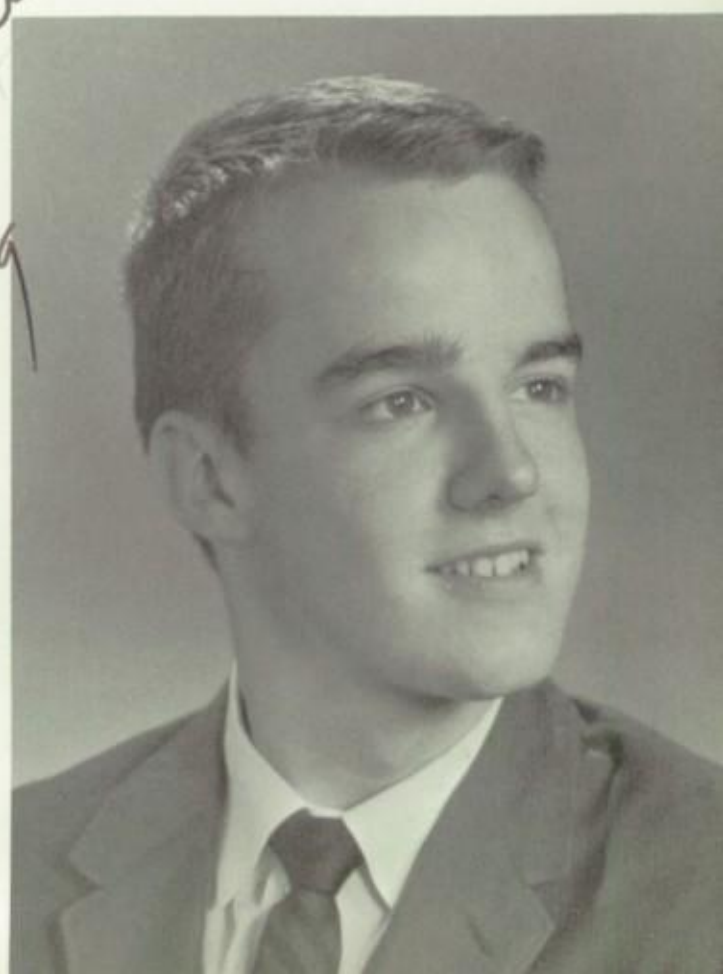
Good luck to the "big foot"
Sugg

HAROLD GRAY SUGG, JR.

Belfry Newssheet (2); Varsity Football, Mgr. (2); Varsity Soccer (3); Varsity Track (3).

"Who needs cars, television, or houses? Why you're not a man unless you live in a cave, and eat venison and ride crocodiles." The aforesaid philosophy is that of Hal Sugg, the Jack Kerouac of the Class of '63. Although Hal lives in a house, drives (?) a car, eats steak, and watches television, his classmates know that, given the chance, Hal would readily take to the hills and avoid association with the civilized world.

Philosophy is not Hal's only characteristic: he is the most sincere and most friendly member of our class. Hal's friendliness and his ever-constant good-word for all have made him one of our most personable classmates; and his participation on both the soccer and the tracks teams has made him one of our most valuable assets.



Hey,
I hope you will be successful at V-N or the Academy. Don't forget NA, Washington after dark, and soccer trips - not necessarily to the hospital.
Good luck,
Bob

ROBERT RUDD SWANN

Varsity Soccer (2).

In 1961, the Academy became a different place, for that year marked the beginning of the era of Bob Swann.

Bob is, unique for he occasionally illustrates a hidden talent at performing unusually difficult problems in trigonometry which no other student has the patience to cope with.

Bob also stands out as the only upperclassman who insists on wearing blue tennis shoes to athletics. These tennis shoes stand out at athletics just as Bob's shrewd comments stand out in class. Gifted with a keen sense of humor, Bob will excel at Hampden-Sidney next year, in whatever he does.

Good luck Lee
YCT CLOD
Lee

LEE CRAWFORD SYER

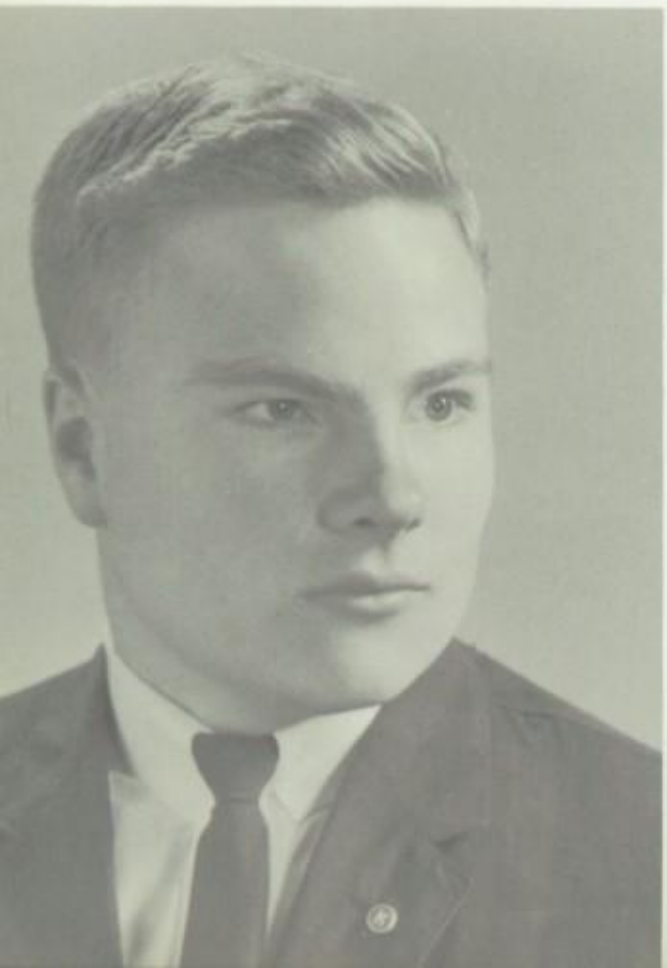
Monogram Club (4); Epsilon Club (2); Key Club (3); French Newspaper (1); Varsity Football (4); Varsity Wrestling (3); Varsity Track (4).

In a class containg numerous monomaniacs, Lee Syer stands out for his wide interests, which include athletics, the careers club, and Dolly Madison. Lee has been an outstanding member of the Varsity Football team for four years; he is the moderator of the Careers Club; and his writings for the Literary Magazine and his English themes illustrate his intense sincerity.

Lee's sincerity, in part, is the reason behind the high respect which he enjoys within the school; however, Lee's respect is primarily the result of his gargantuan size, which terrifies his wrestling opponents at first glance.

Beyond his school activities, Lee is also notable for having been the co-founder of the Yeti Club, which emphasizes mid-December water-skiing; however, Lee's friendliness is the quality for which he will be longest remembered here at the Academy.

From one soccer casualty to another
Lot of luck in the future
Fenton



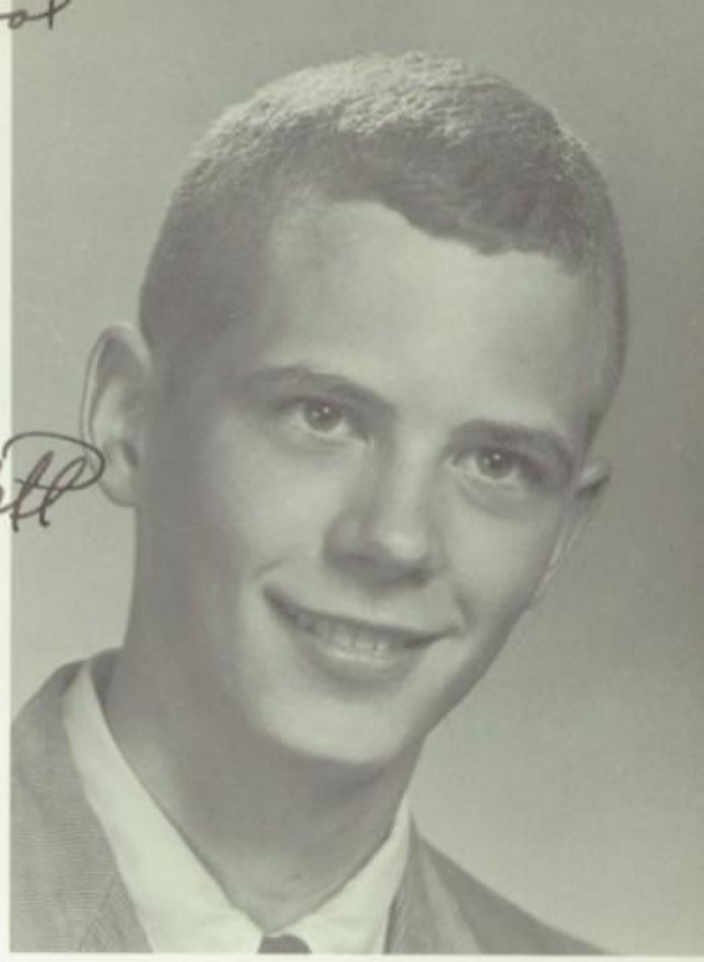
FENTON PRIEST WILKINSON

Monogram Club (2); Epsilon Club (2); Key Club (2); Varsity Football (2); Varsity Soccer (2), captain (1).

Another well-rounded member of the Class of '63, Fenton Wilkinson is both a proficient football guard and soccer captain. In all of his 5'6" glory, Fenton is a veritable giant in our class, as there is seldom a party which he does not attend, and there is seldom a function at which his vivacity goes undisplayed.

A person of many facets, Fenton becomes a big-time star in Mr. Tyler's annual classic play when spring rolls around, and he becomes a Key Club representative from the Academy to Long Beach, California, in the summer. Fenton is a very carefree member of our class; however, he does show his wrath when his physics lab letters are read by the other members of the class. When not in physics lab, however, it is impossible to see Fenton without a smile on his countenance, and when Fenton and his smile enter college next year, the Academy can be assured that with him will go one of its best representatives.

To the greatest high school soccer player that I have ever seen. Remember I was behind you all the way. In fact, I was behind every one, literally.
Best of luck,
Bill Willett



WILLIAM FRANCIS WILLETT

Varsity Football (1); Varsity Soccer (1); Varsity Tennis (1).

Few "one-year-men" have ever left as great an impression on the Academy as has Bill Willett, a new senior this year. Within a few days after his introduction to the school, Bill, a Merit Scholarship finalist, could hardly be distinguished from boys who have been here all their lives. Starting out as a football team statistician, Bill was soon elevated to the presidency of the Booster Club, a newly formed school spirit organization, whose formation he suggested. Bill's ideas were soon put to work, and school spirit reached a new high at the Academy.

Bill's controversial ideas in fields beyond school spirit, however, were his primary means in making himself known. His "super-Yankeeism," his belief in the fallability of the accepted, and his unequalled love of expressing his ideas are illustrated daily, and his liberal ideas concerning government, school and dating make for lively discussions in senior study hall.

Bill's other quality include friendliness, affability, and prowess at running the I-formation. Included in his plans for next year is a small college in Massachusetts.

Ken. Good luck to a great soccer player + a great guy
Good luck at the Naval academy.
Marty Wittersheim

MARTIN ROBERT WITTERSHEIM

Monogram Club (1); Varsity Football (2); Varsity Basketball (2); Varsity Baseball (2).

Reputed to be the only geometry student who never said a word, in class, Marty has come to be admired by his classmates for his genuine interest in the school and his ardent participation in all of its activities. A football, basketball, and baseball player, Marty is nevertheless somewhat shy and extremely susceptible to good-looking blondes.

A perennial member of senior study hall and a member of the Monogram Club, Marty is also known for being unusually well-dressed, as seldom is the day that Marty cannot be seen in the national uniform — weejuns, madras belt, Gant shirt, V-neck sweater, and conspicuously placed madras wallet.

Seldom is the day, also, that Marty does not arrive at school a bit exhausted from his daily, inter-city weave; however, this perilous activity does not dilute Marty's constant good-humor, which, like his fastidious grooming, distinguishes Marty from the average student.

Good luck with your Naval career.
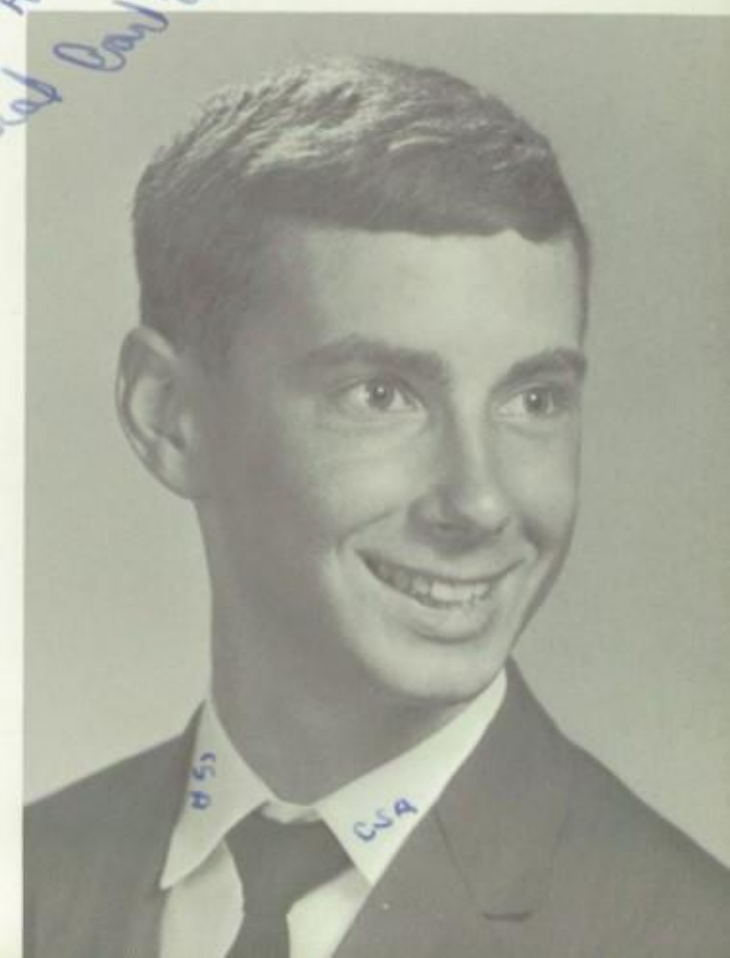
Yours truly,
Carl Womack / U.S.A.



CARL GILBERT WOMACK

Varsity Football (1); Varsity Basketball (1); Varsity Baseball (1).

"Are those orange shanties behind this school the slaves' quarters?" These were the first words spoken by Georgia-reared, Carl Womack, when he looked upon the Academy grounds for the first time, for Carl, whose Southern Accent is certainly his most prominent feature, is still a century behind in many respects. Carl is a radical Southern Conservative, and an ardent fan of Mississippi's Senator Eastland.

Always smiling, he takes trouble with a grin and a philosophical (?) word. Of Polonius' death, he said, "Well, I guess that proves that you shouldn't stand behind curtains."

A remarkable quipster, Carl is endowed with a fantastic sense of humor, and in adulthood, he should go far as a presidential candidate for the Conservative Party.

JOHN OLIVER WYNNE

Honors (1); Honor Court (1); Student Council (1); Monogram Club (4), secretary (1); Orange and White (2), sports editor (1); French Newspaper (1); Varsity Football (3); Varsity Basketball (2); Varsity Tennis (5); Capt. Tennis (2); Capt. Basketball (1); Capt. Football (1).

Dubby Wynne is one of the few members of our class who have been able successfully to combine athletics and academics. Whether on the football field, on the tennis courts, on the basketball court, or in the classroom, Dubby's presence cannot help attracting notice, because he excels in everything.

The 1962 Virginia State Tennis Champion, Dubby spreads himself as much as possible over the entire state, and can be found frequenting Richmond approximately every other weekend. Another of Dubby's outstanding talents is his wild dancing and his ability to organize dances. Dubby's leadership is illustrated whenever there is an Academy dance, since it is through his untiring efforts that nearly every school dance has culminated. Dubby's leadership has also merited him a place on the Student Council and the Honor Court, and his positive attitude has won him the respect and friendship of students and teachers alike.

Dubby's abilities have been solicited by so many colleges that he is still undecided as to his immediate future; however, included in his more distant future are college football and law.

To the greatest soccer player in the school's history, the best of luck for all the years ahead.

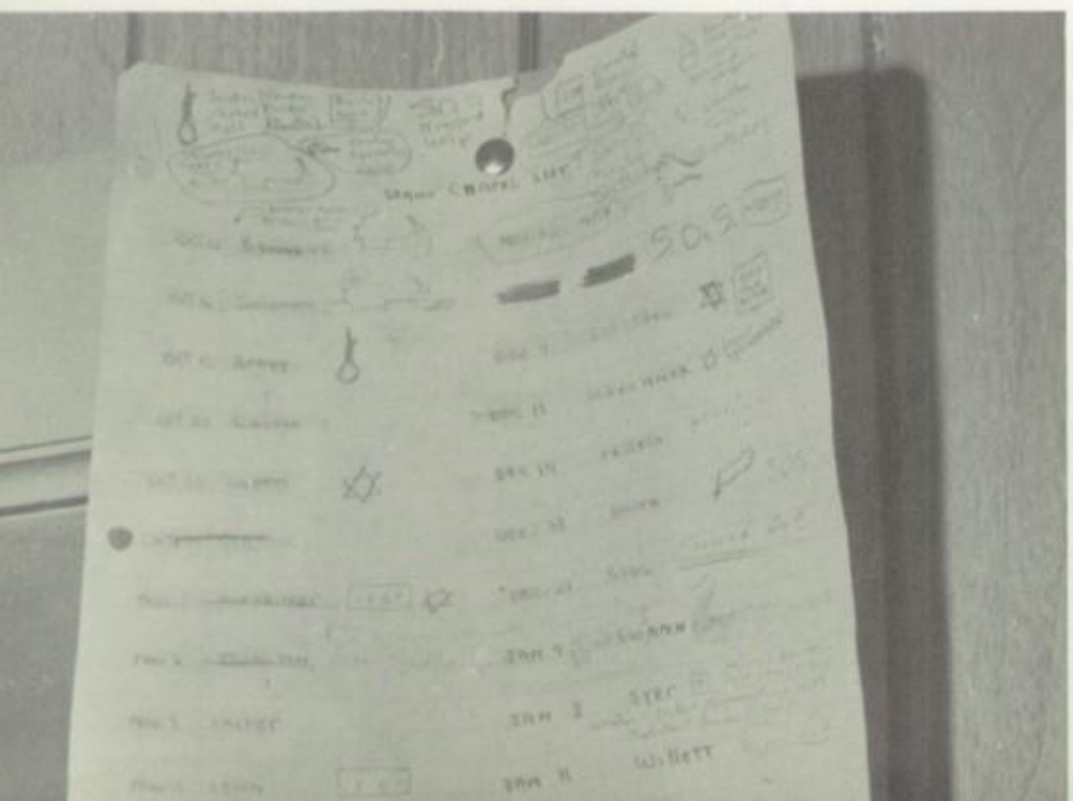
Dear Mr. Massey,

July 5, 1965

First of all, I want to apologize for the disturbance last night. The class feels really bad because no one warned you in advance, and we thought that if someone were to write to you and explain the whole thing, you would understand.

It all began last week when Buzzy Hofheimer sent letters to everyone in our old class inviting them to a "come-as-the-person-you-would-most-like-to-be reunion party," in room E, and we assumed that he had already gotten your permission. It's too bad the riot squad came so early, because we were just beginning to have a good time. But anyway, the class wants me to tell you how sorry we are about the broken glass and all that, and now I'd like to explain the entire evening to you so that you can understand exactly what happened.

When I got there, Buzzy, dressed as Elsa Maxwell, told me to have a good time and mentioned that the Coke machine was serving Pepsi Cola, but that we couldn't have any more if we took them out of the immediate area. Then I spoke to Chip Castle, in an Admiral Rickover uniform, who was engaged in a spirited discussion with Bob Swann, dressed as Bishop Pike, over whether or not the Naval Academy had a better soccer team than Hampden-Sydney. Jim Arline, dressed as Norman Vincent Peale, and Bill Gill, as Captain Bus Mosbacher, walked up discussing the merits of the Portsmouth harbor. "I'll tell you what the truth is, Jim," said Bill, "the Portsmouth Boat Club Harbor hasn't been clogged up with ice floes for over 236 years."



I turned away when I heard Dick Johnston, as Robert Welch, crying out the evils of woman suffrage. The only person paying any attention to him was Johnny Levin, dressed as John Mortensen. We all turned away when we heard a loud "Hey, Baabbbeeeee!!!!" from a distant corner of the room, followed by riotous, dialectical guffaws. I looked over and saw Richard Matthews, in his Red Skelton costume, and Mike Nold, dressed as Howdy Doody, humorously kidding Bill Sellers, in a Duke football uniform numbered 15, about his calumniating weekend activities. Bill countered with, "Aw, stop pulling my leg, you guys," and then Fenton Wilkinson, dressed as his brother, came into the corner as a protective measure. We all stopped everything again when Lee Syer, in his Green Giant leaves, crashed through the window and was immediately bombarded with snowballs by Abominable Snowman Bevernick. "Say, Al," asked Lee, "are you ready for the Yeti Club meeting Sunday?"

"No, I'm not, Lee," replied Alex. "Are you for real?"

Wayne Bowman turned around disgustedly and said, "Aw, you guys are always cutting everyone up!" Wayne, dressed as Tarzan, was talking to Kenny Smith, in his Bonnie Prince Charlie knickers, and to Jim Brady, who was wearing a loose-fitting Perry Como sweater. Nearby was Carl Womack, in the white hat and suspenders of Huey Long, who was in an almost violent argument with Hal Sugg, who was wearing his Henry David Thoreau beard. Not interested in Carl's views on slavery, Sandy Nemo, dressed as Arnold Palmer, walked over to where George Bennett, in his satyr costume, was laughing at Marty Wittersheim's boasts about his having outrun eighteen police cars on the previous weekend. "I don't care if you are dressed as Phil Hill, you couldn't have done that last weekend, because I had all the cops in the state tied up in Clarksville." I walked over to Marc Salzberg in his hand-me-down, thread-bare Richard Nixon costume, ready for some clever repartee, and slyly said, "Oh, I see you've started losing on a national scale."

"That's very funny," shot back Marc. Utterly defeated, I walked away, and left Marc to Clark Laster, carrying his George Gallup briefcase, and Bill Willett, who was dressed as Anheuser-Busch. They handed Marc about fifteen sheets of paper and said, "This is a little form we'd like you to fill out. It just has a few simple questions: Where did you rent your costume? For how much? You know, things like that." Next to them, Dicky Musick, in his Gray Simons tights, Joel Cohen, dressed as one of the Brooks Brothers, and Dubby Wynne, as the other Brooks Brother, were comparing Florida tans (Joel won), when there was a scream outside, and everyone rushed to see Bill Grant, dressed as President Grant, finish an obviously staged fall down the stairs. "Oh, I'm glad that's over," said Bill, and someone who hadn't caught the joke called for a doctor. Immediately Danny Schechner and David Levy appeared in white lab coats and bald heads. "Please, Danny," cried Bob Swann, "please, help this man."

"No," said Danny with the fiercely independent stubbornness of a potential Nobel Prize winner. "That joke was one of my pearls, and he stole it!"

It was then that we heard the sirens, and I ran and hid behind the birdbath, so I can't tell you exactly what happened, but, so I hear, Buzzy knew one of the policemen, and that kept everyone out of serious trouble, but, of course, the pace of the party slackened considerably, and we had to stop it altogether when Dick Johnston started wondering if a wrestling mat would burn.

Well, that's the whole story, Mr. Massey. I hope you can find it in your heart to forgive the class of '63.

Sincerely, your friend,

Paul Rippey

THE BELFRY

Co-Editor John Levin

Last year nobody seemed to know whether The Belfry was a newspaper or literary magazine, so this year the two became independent. The Belfry is the school's newspaper and comes out once a month. Sponsored by Mr. Blakey, The Belfry's first edition came off the presses just one week after the opening of school. After such a promising beginning, The Belfry cannot help being an outstanding newspaper. Some new features of the newspaper include: "Letters to the Editor," a section entitled "Faculty Profile," and an "In the Library" column.

Editorial Staff: Cooper, Bennett, Bevernick, Hudgins, Murray, and Zetlin.

LITERARY MAGAZINE

This year The Belfry has been divided into two parts, The Belfry Newspaper, and The Literary Magazine. The Literary Magazine is composed of various stories, essays, and poems submitted by students and faculty. Under the supervision of Mr. Babcock, the magazine is published twice yearly.

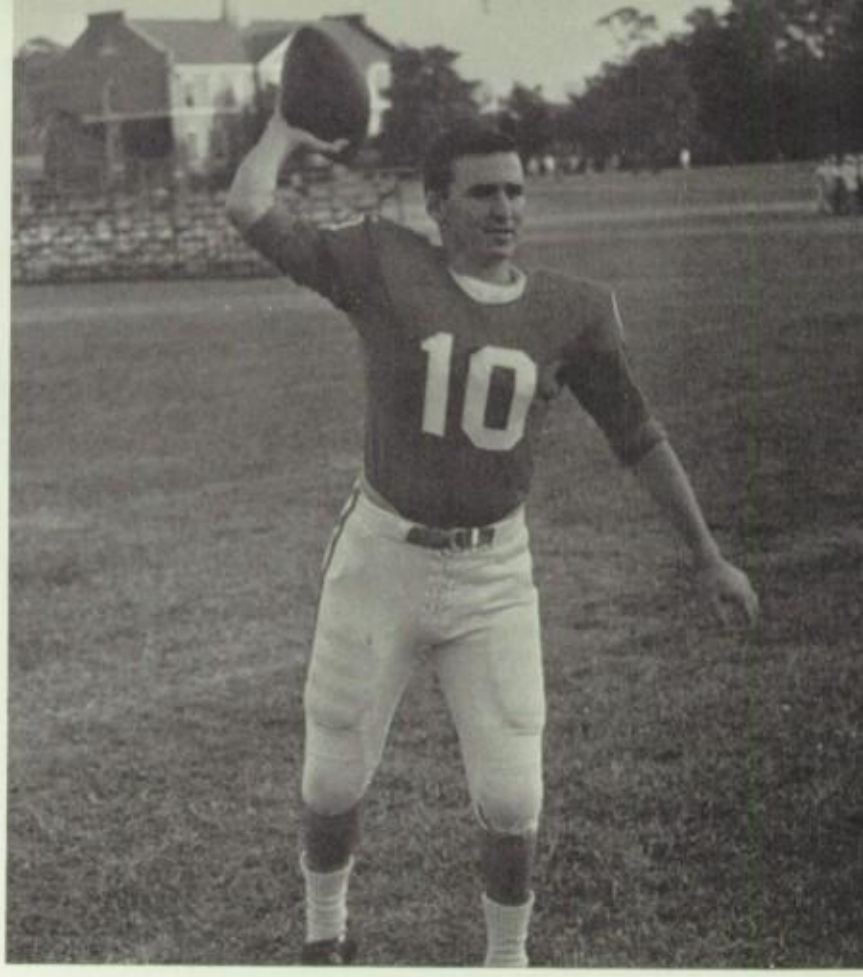
FOOTBALL — '62

With the returning football players from the 1962 football team, which had a 4-2-2 record, Coach Jones built a team, which relied on speed and a good quick "pop," that was able to surprise the larger teams it faced on a tough schedule. Lee Syer did a good job anchoring an otherwise light line, which was quite often out-weighed by at least forty pounds per man. A light inner line, consisting of Newty Miller at center, Don Nash and Fenton Wilkinson at guards, and three very capable tackles in Richard Matthews, George Sebren, and Alan Freidberg, was able to stop the larger opposing line very dependably. With Kent Woodward and Lee Syer at end, Dubby Wynne was able to complete many passes. The quick hitting backfield was led by Alex Bevernick, Dick Musick, Dudley Cocke, with Ed Underwood, George Bennett, Marty Wittersheim, and Johnny Heilig seeing a lot of action. For an extremely light team, the Norfolk Academy football team of 1962 ended the year having given a better than expected performance.

COACHES' AWARD

George Bennett

Selected by the coaches as an ideal representative of the Norfolk Academy athlete, George Bennett has been a most valuable asset to the 1962 football team. This award is made annually to the player who demonstrates both desire and teamwork above that normally expected of a player. From his defensive fullback position, George gained the respect of his teammates and opponents alike by his "hustle and hit" ability. He has been an outstanding example of the type of athlete desired on the Academy football team.



MOST VALUABLE and BEST BACK

Dubby Wynne

It seems only fitting that a player who scored half the team's points and amassed half of its yardage should be honored in a special way by his teammates. This year Dubby Wynne, co-captain and quarterback, scored forty-two points and rushed for 450 yards while passing for 550 more. For his exceptional contribution, the team selected him both as "The Best Back of the Year" and "The Most Valuable Player."

MOST DESERVING

Dick Musick

Chosen by his teammates as the "Most Deserving Player of 1962," Dickie carried the ball 32 times and caught ten passes for a total of 185 yards. Dickie Musick will be remembered more, however, for his contributions to the team while on defense. Many times during the year No. 16 would slice through a would-be blocker from his line-backing position to throw the carrier for a loss.

BEST LINEMAN

Lee Syer

Lee Syer was selected as "The Best Lineman of the Year" not only because his 235-lb. frame composed a major portion of the line but also because he contributed a great deal to the success of the team. To his teammates Lee was the player who could be counted on to make numerous tackles and many good blocks in any game, and to his opponents was the player who made them wonder if some other sport might not be more profitable and less harmful.

N.A. 14-Frederick 32

In the opening game of the year, the Bulldogs met an experienced team which had an exceptional speed. In the opening quarter, Frederick scored on a 40-yd. run, but the Academy countered on an 80-yd. drive climaxed by Dick Musick's carrying over from the 4-yd. line. Frederick scored once more before the half and the score stood at 13-7. During the third quarter, the Academy could not move the ball and Frederick scored twice more on long runs. In the fourth quarter, the Academy moved 70 yds., 30 yds. coming from a Wynne-to-Woodward pass. Musick scored on a 14-yd. pass from Wynne. Frederick scored once more and the score stood at 32-14.

N.A. 14-Virginia Beach 25

Against the Academy's traditional rival, the Virginia Beach High School, the Bulldogs were victims of a series of unlucky breaks. In the opening minutes of the game, the Academy was forced to punt, but a bad snap from the center gave the Beach possession of the ball deep in the Academy territory. From here, the Seahawks went on to score the first of four touchdowns in the first half. After the half, a spirited Academy eleven came out and outplayed the Beach for the remaining portion of the game. Late in the third quarter, Dubby Wynne went over from the 1-yd. line for the first touchdown of the night. In the fourth quarter, the Academy drove 65 yds., 35 yds. on a Wynne-to-Bevernick pass, which were culminated by Dudley Cocke scoring from the 2-yd. line. Although the Bulldogs were down by four touchdowns at the half, they were able to come back and make it an exciting game which found the Academy on the short end of a 25-14 decision.

N.A. 12-Collegiate 6

On a sultry afternoon in October, the Academy eleven traveled to Richmond's Collegiate School. Neither team was able to move the ball in the first quarter of the game. Then in the second quarter, the Academy suddenly broke into the scoring column with a splendid 70-yd. punt return by Dubby Wynne. This ended the scoring for the first half. Coming out of the dressing room, the Bulldogs received the kickoff and drove down to the 10-yd. line of Collegiate on a series of option plays with Wynne and Bevernick carrying behind the blocking of Syer and Woodward. Wynne culminated the drive with an off-tackle run. After this, Collegiate managed to get 6 points and threatened again. With a fumble recovery, however, the Bulldogs wrapped up their first victory of the year, and successfully began a new rivalry.

N.A. 27-V.E.S. 14

On a bright autumn day, the Bulldogs greeted the alumni with a 27-14 stomping of V.E.S. Taking the opening kickoff, the Academy marched over the Bishops with the left side of the line, Syer, Sebren, and Wilkinson leading the way. Quarterback Wynne carried the ball across, and Sebren added the point after touchdown. The defense held the visitors and the offense was off on its way to a score. This time, Dudley Cocke did the honors. Once more, before the half ended, the Academy drove down the field on Wynne passes to Woodward and Bevernick, and on a 15-yd. toss to Musick, who scored. The Bulldogs dominated play in the third quarter and Bevernick added another touchdown. With 27 points, the Bulldogs relaxed upon their laurels, and the Bishops got 14 points in the final minutes of play.

OFFENSIVE TEAM

N.A. 7-Benedictine 32

Once again the Bulldogs journeyed to the capital city, this time to take on one of the most formidable teams in the state. Taking the opening, the Academy surprised the home team with their hard hitting and quickly moved to a touchdown. A fumble, however, gave the ball to the Cadets who made it 6-0 on a long run. With their second sustained drive, the Bulldogs gained the lead at 7-6 on Wynne's run and Sebren's kick. Although the Bulldogs drove deep into Benedictine territory three times in the second quarter, the score remained the same until another run returned the lead to the Cadets. In the second half, the Bulldogs could not push across another score, while the Cadets ran up a 32-7 victory.

N.A. O-Catholic 13

The Bulldogs took their closest rival on a rain-soaked field after the mud had already caused one postponement of the game already. In the first half, neither team could keep the ball long enough to score because of the poor footing. The second half continued in the same manner until Catholic broke loose for a 25-yd. touchdown run. The Bulldogs seemed still stunned by the first touchdown, when Catholic returned a punt for another six pointer. By the first of the fourth period, the Academy eleven had regained their composure and began to move the ball well, with Bevernick and Wynne carrying the brunt of the attack. The Catholics held out, however, long enough to win 13-0.

N.A. O-Saint Christopher's 7

Th rains continued and when Saint Christopher's come, they found a muddy field and a cold rain. The playing conditions made the Bulldogs' task much more difficult, for their small backs, not able to run outside, would have to go against a heavy Saint Chris line. Throughout the first half, both teams sloshed around in the mud, while the Bulldog defense, led by Syer, Nash, and Musick, stopped the visitors cold. In the third period, the Saints got the only score of the game. The Academy came back with short tosses to Cocke and Woodward, and Wynne carried to the 1-yd. line, but on the 4th down, St. Chris held us and gained their first Bulldog-victory in four seasons.

N.A. 19-Fishburne 0

In the season's finale, the team went to Waynesboro to play another military school, Fishburne. From the beginning, the Bulldogs dominated the play, and in the second quarter, Wynne carried for three yards and our first touchdown. Without either tackle, the Bulldogs were threatened by the hosts until the latter fumbled. Immediately the Academy gridders marched to their second score with Wynne again making the final yardage. The defense continued to hold Fishburne to short gains with Musick, and Matthews leading the way. In the last quarter, the Bulldogs again drove to a score, with Woodward taking a Wynne pass, and Sebren making the extra-point, to bring the total to 19-0. The scoring ended and the Bulldogs gained their third victory with the finest effort of the year.

Last year the basketball team could manage only a .500 season with three tall men. All three were lost through graduation, and the only real scoring threat returning was Dubby Wynne, a guard. Coach Harvie, therefore, had a really difficult job facing him. Alex Bevernick, Kent Woodward, and Don Nash had played regularly the year before, but each would have to improve on his average in order to help the team. Bill Grant and John Heilig rounded out the top six. Bill Sweeney and Dudley Cocke, up from the J.V., and newcomers Carl Womack and Hank Hanssen helped to strengthen the bench.

For the season's premiere, the Bulldogs travelled to Suffolk. The experienced Red Raiders had little trouble with the Academy, beating them by 20 points. The Bulldogs continued to be outclassed by their opponents in their next six games. The team then found itself and played very good games on successive nights against Collegiate and James Blair but lost both by a margin of five or six points. With the team starting to

With the Sportsmanship Award and an All-Tournament Player, Wynne, to give incentive to the Bulldogs, the Academy looks forward to the end of February.

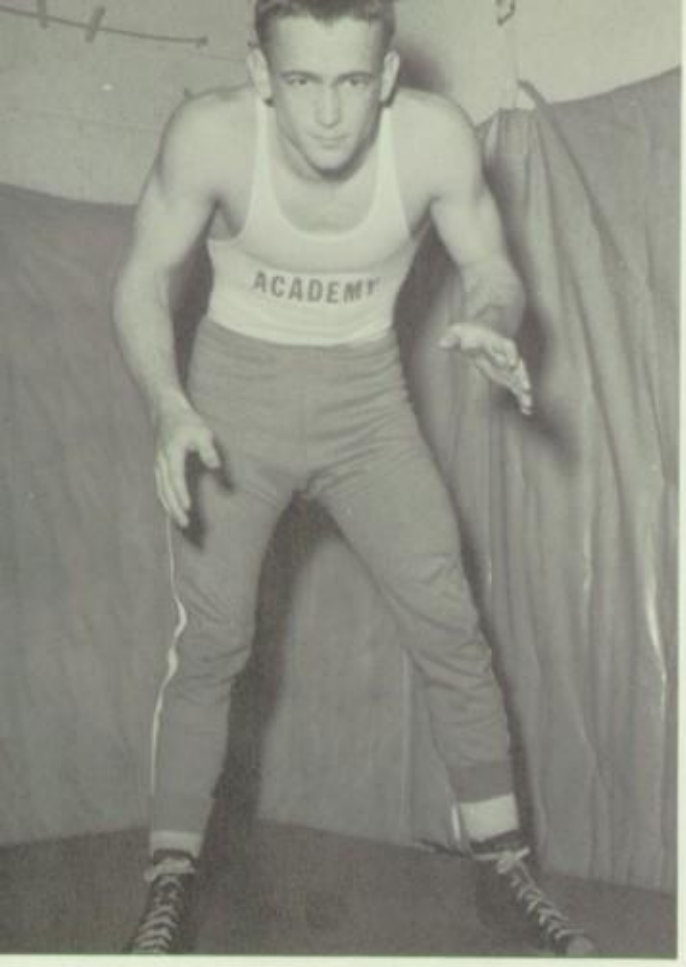
VARSITY WRESTLING 62-63

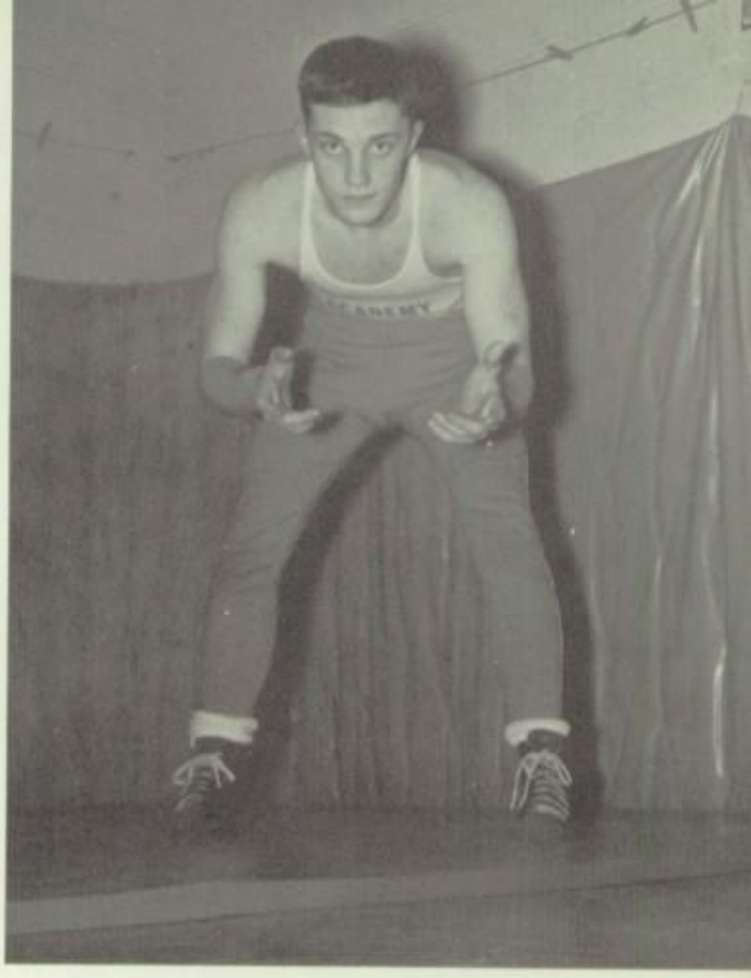
Under the excellent leadership of Armand Taylor, the Norfolk Academy wrestling team faces a year of reconstruction. Losing six firststring grapplers through graduation (among them, Bill Miller, the 167 lb. East Coast champion), and two by transfers, this year's team will find it difficult to match last year's 12-3-1 record.

Led by co-captains, Dick Musick and Newty Miller, the Academy wrestlers have performed fairly well, having defeated Oscar Smith, a Group I team, by a score of 24-20. The next three matches against the top wrestling schools in the area, Norview, Granby, and Wilson, proved to be rather one-sided; however, the Bulldogs feel that they are improving daily and are looking forward to the five remaining matches and the prep tournament.

This year's starting line-up, with a few exceptions, is as follows: Gordon Nash, with a 4-2 record, at 95 lbs.; Barry Levin and John Donahue at 103 lbs.; Vince Ober and Barry Levin (when he's fatter) at 112 lbs.; Dick Musick, undefeated in dual-meet competition since 1960 and runner-up in the East Coast Prep School Tournament, at 120 lbs.; Steve Steinhilber at 127 lbs.; Newty Miller, with a 5-1 record, at 133 lbs.; John Dennis at 138 lbs.; Bill Byrd at 145 lbs.; John Johnston at 156 lbs.; Richard Matthews at 165 lbs.; Mike Hall at 170 lbs.; and Lee Syer, with a 4-2 record, in the heavyweight spotlight.



Dick Musick



Richard Matthews

Although lacking heavier boys to fill the upper weight classes, the desire of the team is easily noticeable. Wrestling above their weight, boys like Steinhilber, Matthews, Byrd, and Johnston have displayed fine ability and determination. The wrestlers feel that, with Coach Taylor's guidance along with constant practice and hard work, they will have a winning season this year, and a record of which they can be justly proud.

With eight returning lettermen, four of whom were on the first string, the outlook for this year's soccer squad was indeed bright. Fenton Wilkinson and Chip Castle, both of whom start at halfback, were elected the team's co-captains. The line, almost completely decimated by graduation, is formed around Kenny Smith at center forward. Smith, last year's high scorer, is aided by two adept insiders, Joe McNeal and Carter Gunn. Mike Nold and Dave Levy, who were alternates last season, are progressing well at wing. Eddie Underwood, a sophomore letterman, plays halfback with Wilkinson and Castle. George Sebren and Bill Sellers add depth at the fullback positions. Larry Stetson, a newcomer to the team and to the game, ably defends the goal.

This team began its season in Richmond by defeating a strong Saint Christopher's team. Joe McNeal headed in the first goal of the season on a kick from the wing by Mike Nold. Ken Smith scored early in the fourth quarter to put the Academy ahead 2-0. Saint Christopher's finally scored in the last few minutes of play making the final score 2-1. The team was again victorious in its second game at Christchurch thus giving the Bulldog eleven their first win over the Seahawks in three seasons. Carter Gunn, having an excellent afternoon, scored both Academy goals to offset one by Christchurch.

Six more games face the Bulldog squad: two with Collegiate School in Richmond, two with Hampton Roads Academy and one more each with Saint Christopher's and Christ Church. VARSITY BASEBALL

For the first time in nine years, the varsity baseball team had a new coach. Mr. Hal White took over as coach and did a very commendable job for his first year. Although the team got off to a slow start, the team progressed rapidly as the season became older. First game jitters was especially apparent in the opening game, for the team committed seven errors. It appeared that the team would follow the record of last year in that both teams dropped the first two games. After a 1-0 decision over Frederick Academy, it seemed as though the team was on its way. However, several close ball games went in the favor of the opponent, and the team had to settle with a 5-9-1 record.

Hunt Rawlings, Jay Massey, and John Heilig shared the pitching duties. Rawlings, one of the area's best players, was out of action for the first three weeks due to an ankle injury sustained during basketball season. Rounding out the first team, there was Bob Cole at catcher, Bill Withrow at first, Joel Cohen at second, Marty Wittersheim at third, Sunny Wooden at shortstop, Bob Culpepper in left field, John Heilig in center field, and Jay Massey in right field. With John Heilig, the team's leading hitter, Joel Cohen, Marty Wittersheim, Bill Grant, George Bennett, and Dick Lahey returning, the forecast for 1963 seems to be bright.

J. V. BASEBALL

J.V. Baseball at the Academy in 1962 showed, in spite of its unimpressive record, a gradual improvement as the year progressed. Under the competent coaching of Mr. Leo Anthony, the team showed sparks of brilliance at times, which greatly surprised the coach. Captains Bill Byrd, the team's catcher, and Tom Forehand at shortstop were backed up by Mike Wood at first base, Gordon Nash at second, and Bob Collector and Sterling Williams at third. Rounding out the outfield were Joe McNeal in left, Dick Payne in center, and Carter Gunn in right. These positions were by no means dominated by the preceding players, for the bench was quite strong and saw considerable action during the course of the season.

VARSITY

Track, the Academy's newest sport, has firmly established itself as one of the big varsity sports at N.A. Though this year's team won ony one meet out of six, the heart-stopping victory over powerful Northhampton in the last meet showed how this team had improved over the season. For the third time in the same number of years, the Academy fielded a Pilot Relay squad to compete in the annual Pilot Relays at Foreman Field. Competing on the Group II level, teams were entered in the mile, the 880, the 440, and the invitational 100 yd. dash. Although no victories were scored, Bulldog runners took second place in the 880 relay, third in the 100 yd. dash and the 440 relay, and fourth place in the mile relay.

caster, Lambert, Shulman, Zetlin, Johnston, Peltz, Syer, Foster, Castle, Thompson, Thiemeyer, Payne, Underwood, Tilberg, Coach Jones.

TRACK

A few outstanding performers on the team were seniors John Turner and Bob Fowler in the hurdles, Herb Sebren in the broad jump, Bill Miller in the pole vault. Prominent juniors included Paul Rippey in the 440, Lee Syer in the shot and discus, Alex Bevernick in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Steve Grenfell, a freshman, and anchor man of a surprisingly strong mile relay team, has shown immense promise, along with Mark Horne, who has developed into a very strong sprinter.

As usual, graduation took its toll, but the nucleus of a potentially strong team will remain for this year, and as the popularity of track skyrockets, the teams should improve more and more.

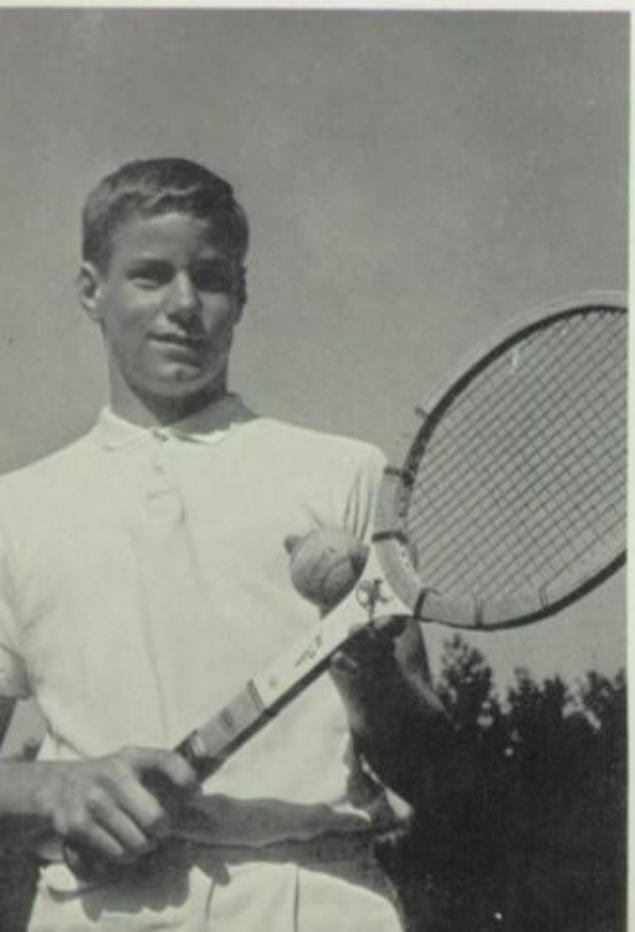
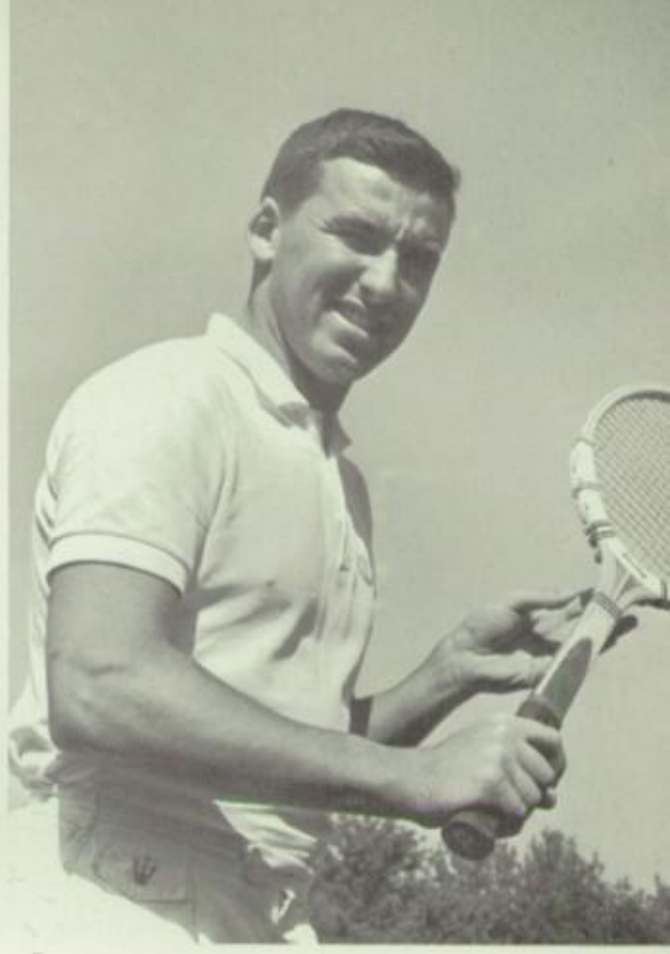
VARSITY TENNIS

At the beginning of the 1962 tennis season, Mr. Cumiskey, Director of Athletics, said, "This year's tennis team should not lose a match." As fate would have it, the team did lose a match. As a matter of fact, it lost two matches, but the team compiled a 10-2 record for the year — the best in the Academy's history.

The ladder showed Dubby Wynne at No. 1, Tommy Rueger at No. 2, Kent Woodward at No. 3, John Winter at No. 4, Bill Garrison at No. 5, and Bill Sweeney at the No. 6 position. Although this group played the singles matches, two other players, Dudley Cocke and Wiley Wood, also saw action in the doubles.

The season was opened with a 9-0 trouncing of Catholic. The match between Dubby Wynne and Holly Winters created unusual interest and drew many interested spectators. It was the first time the No. 1 tennis player on the opposing team had been a girl. Dubby maintained his calm and won the match. Great Bridge followed and was defeated by the same score — the team lost a total of 12 games in 18 sets. Suffolk came to the Academy's courts next and when darkness finally halted the match, the visitors had a 4-3 lead but were losing the other two matches. Who knows what would have happened had the match been completed!





The Suffolk match was followed by successive wins over Christ Church, 8-1, and St. Christopher's, 5-2. The St. Christopher's victory was especially notable, as the Academy had lost to them for six straight years. The Academy team went to Maury for its next match and came out with a 8-1 victory. Woodberry Forest was next on the schedule and here, the Academy suffered one of its losses by the score of 7-2. Woodberry Forest won four of the matches that went to three sets and could have possibly gone either way. Woodberry had the best high school team in the state — a position that we feel will be taken over by the Academy this coming year. Victories over Georgetown University's freshmen, 8-1; Granby, 9-0; and Christ Church, 9-0; were followed by a loss to Suffolk, 6-3. Once again the Academy lost several three-set matches that could possibly have been won but weren't. The season was closed with wins over St. Christopher's, 7-2, and Maury, 9-0. So went the Academy tennis season for 1962, but what of the team in 1963?

During the summer, nearly all the members of the team participated in tournaments ranging from Kalamazoo, Michigan (Nationals) to Corpus Christi, Texas, (National J.C.) to New York City (Easterns). Dubby Wynne is the current State Champion in the 18 and under division and the other five members of the team, Bill Sweeney, Tom Rueger, Wiley Wood, Bill Garrison, and John Winter, will all rank in the top ten in the 16 and under division of the State. In addition, Wynne, Sweeney, and Wood will be ranked very high in the middle Atlantic Section of the U.S. — Wynne probably No. 5 or No. 6, Sweeney, No. 8 or No. 9, and Wood in the top twenty. With the return of all of its 1962 team members, the School can look forward with high expectations, to a State Championship Team next spring and possibly for several years after that.

To quote producer-director J. Allen Tyler, the spring play was an "almost unqualified success." The 1962 production, The Scarlet Ghost, a representation of the 1957 fare, was acclaimed by all those in attendance to be the "best ever," to be superseded, one hopes, only by the 1963 piece, now in production.

City Council Approves Site For New School Merger

Richard F. Welton, III, spokesman for the expansion committee of the Norfolk Academy and the Country Day School of Virginia Beach, announced Tuesday, October 30 that the site for a future coordinated school had been chosen. Mr. Welton reported that the location would be on the eastern edge of the city, adjacent to the proposed Virginia Wesleyan College on the old Norfolk city farm near the intersection of U.S. Route 13 and proposed Interstate Route 64.

Elaborating on Mr. Welton's announcement, Mr. Massey commented that the site would include 56.26 acres (in contrast to the Academy's present 17), and that the anticipated enrollment would be around 500. This student body would consist only of grades seven through twelve, and would be sixty percent boys and forty percent girls.

The plans for the new co-ordinated school call for a four-building complex: a central building to house laboratories, library, refectory, and administrative offices; a gymnasium; and two classroom buildings. The classes for girls and boys would be conducted separately, although there might be an interchange of instructors in courses of a more specialized nature. The gymnasium, library, laboratories, and refectory would be used jointly, but not necessarily simultaneously.

The architectural style of the new school is not yet definite. Mr. Massey stated that several plans had been considered, but the actual style has yet to be determined. He added, however, that he felt that it would probably emerge as a "modified modern" type structure.

Country Day Pleased

Mrs. Charles Lovitt, Headmistress of the Country Day School, said, concerning the merger plans, "I am very pleased that this phase of expansion has been completed, and I see that each school has much to offer the other. I look forward to working with Mr. Massey and the boys at the Academy."

The co-ordination of the two schools lends itself to more than just a merger of the physical plants and major facilities. Also envisioned for the future is a program of close cooperation in the fields of publications, dramatics, and musical activities.

Although the co-ordination of the two schools entails a major geographical change, there is to be no drastic administrative change. Mr. Massey will become headmaster of the co-ordinated schools; Mrs. Lovitt will be director of the girls' division; and another master will serve as director of the boys' division.

The geographical desirability of the new site was explained by Mr. Massey. He said that it was not much more than one half hour's drive from any place in Norfolk or Virginia Beach. Mrs. Lovitt reported that the only adverse comment that she had heard from her students was, "It's too bad we can't be by the ocean."

The facilities currently used by the Academy will become exclusively the Lower School Plant, for approximately 250 students. This change would double the enrollment of forms I through 6.

Those responsible for the actual mechanics of the merger hope to raise sufficient funds in time to complete the building project within the next two or three years. The success of the program depends upon the receptiveness of the community to the idea and its financial responsiveness to the project.

Co-ordination and Community Service

Aside from some of the more obvious material benefits that will accrue from this co-ordination, there are a number of intangibles. For one thing, families who have both boys and girls can find a good independent school education at a single location. And for an increasing number of families the prospective site will be a good deal more convenient; even now twenty to thirty percent of our school population is drawn from an area to the east of the new location. The locus of Norfolk's residential population is progressing steadily eastward; and to maintain a tradition of community service, the Academy can function best by being at the heart of that community.

It is not inappropriate to note, for those who may have any latent doubts about co-ordination, that in the forefront of the most successful modernization programs in the country are those schools which have co-ordinated their facilities. Such schools as the distinguished Westminister School in Atlanta, Georgia; the long-established Kent School, Kent, Connecticut; the burgeoning Collegiate Schools in Richmond, Virginia, have been successful pioneers in this field. The Academy's hoped-for move is not merely a geographical shift, but the turning of our face toward tomorrow.
